Thanking America’s Troops and Their Families with the Gift of Education

May 2014

Hi Readers,

Military Times in North Dakota offers a unique opportunity to thank our military families for their sacrifice and commitment to our country. For St. Paul’s, it was a highlight of our month of May activities.

We, along with our partners, have planned events and programs that celebrate our military families, their service, and their contribution to our country. Our goal is to empower these families to achieve their personal and professional goals through education and training.

Our activities include:

1. Military Family Appreciation Night - An evening dedicated to showcasing the support and resources available to military families.
2. Military Family Workshop - A hands-on workshop offering practical advice and tools for military families to navigate the challenges of relocation and deployment.
3. Military Family Scholarship - A financial assistance program to help military families pursue higher education and career advancement.

We encourage all our military families to participate in these events and programs. Together, we can make a difference in the lives of our military families.

Military Family Appreciation Night is scheduled for May 15th. Please join us to celebrate our military families and show your appreciation.

Online Registration for the Military Family Workshop is now open. Space is limited, so please register early.

We hope to see you at these events and hear your stories of service and sacrifice. Let’s work together to support our military families and their dreams.

Sincerely,
