Military Player and Pro Biographies

Rear Admiral Sean Buck, a native of Indianapolis, is a 1983 graduate of the United States Naval Academy. He was designated a naval flight officer in 1985. He has served as the Director Navy 21st Century Sailor Office. Admiral Buck currently serves as chief of staff, J5, Joint Staff where he assists the chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff, in executing his duties as principal military adviser to the President and Secretary of Defense.

Doug Adler is a former All-American at the University of Southern California where he reached the NCAA Doubles semi-finals with partner Robert Van't Hof. Today, Doug is heard on television throughout the world as a tennis commentator, providing both play-by-play and color analysis. He is also a contributor to FoxSports.com.

Francis Alvir, a resident of Northern Virginia, has been in the tennis industry for over 30 years. After great success as a junior, he played collegiate tennis at UC Santa Barbara before transferring to University of Virginia. He then began a teaching career, developing winning women's USTA teams and top ranked juniors. Francis has devoted his life to giving back to the sport that he has earned so much from and currently teaches full-time in Virginia.

Tony Applewhaite was a top-ranked junior tennis player and secured a Division I tennis scholarship from the University of Hartford where, as team captain, he earned first team All-Conference and All-New England honors. He also played in ATP satellite (now futures) events and gained extensive teaching experience in the Mid-Atlantic area and South Carolina. He is currently a communications consultant and strategist at Brunswick Group LLC.

Boris Brezac grew up playing tennis on the clay courts in Croatia and played on the junior national team of the former Yugoslavia. He later coached junior players that were members of Croatian national teams, helping some to break through on the WTA Tour. Boris is now a structural engineer at HDR in Arlington, Virginia. He has worked on the design of several USACE and NAVFAC medical facilities.

“Forty-six years of playing tennis is directly responsible for molding my character, temperament, people skills, and leadership style. While being a wonderful unmatched ‘life sport’, its competitive aspect also developed in me an indomitable spirit of wanting to win, which has served me well in my Naval career.” – Rear Admiral Sean Buck

Elliott Datlow was the recipient of the 2014 USTA/Mid-Atlantic Tennis Professional of the Year and was recently voted “Best Tennis Instructor in Fairfax” by the Sun Gazette newspaper. He played tennis at the University of Kentucky, and continues to play with a recent #1 ranking in USTA/MAS Men's Open. He currently is a director for Jack Schore Tennis at McLean Sport & Health and serves on the USTA/MAS Diversity and Inclusion Committee.

Stefano Ianni is an Italian professional tennis player. He competed mainly on the ATP Challenger Tour and ITF Futures, both in singles and doubles. He reached his highest ATP singles ranking, No. 300, in 2007, and his highest ATP doubles ranking, No. 118, in 2014.

Stanley Pawlowski was born in Long Island, New York. He was a nationally ranked junior and trained under the tutelage of Paul Annacone. Stan won many tournaments in his career including both National Hard Courts and Indoor Clay Courts. Stan is currently employed with the Federal Government.

Richey Reneberg attended Southern Methodist University, where he was a three-time All-American. He and his partner Jim Grabb were ranked World No. 1 in doubles and won the 1992 US Open doubles title. He won a second doubles Grand Slam with Jared Palmer at the 1995 Australian Open. Richey represented the U.S. at the 1996 Summer Olympics and also played on the American Davis Cup team. He is currently a Principal at Taconic Capital.
