We hope you and your loved ones had a Happy Thanksgiving and continue to have a joyful holiday season. As the weather gets colder and the malls get busier, let's remember what's important this time of year -- spending time with the ones we love.

It's also a good time to remember the families of those in uniform who serve our country, like the Hubbert family in this photo. Military mother Maria Hubbert, here with her husband Ken and two of their sons, Daniel (left) and Clifton (right) all know what it means to celebrate the holidays in uniform.

Think of the mothers, fathers, husbands, wives, sisters and brothers who will be spending the holidays away from their families. Thank these individuals and their families for their sacrifice by giving them the greatest gift this holiday -- the gift of education.
